INTRODUCING WAX-IT'S NEW MODEL ORGANISM TISSUE BANK AND TISSUE MACROARRAY BANK

Wax-it is pleased to announce the official launch of the Wax-it Tissue Bank and Tissue MacroArray Bank based on select model organisms including multiple species of mouse, rat, pig, and rabbit. In addition, custom MacroArrays can be built upon request.

“The Tissue MacroArray bank will allow researchers to probe for proteins of interest against multiple tissues on a single slide - providing a truly macroscopic view of protein distribution.”

Some potential applications:

- Control tissues
- Antibody validation
- Antibody optimization
- Protocol development
- Testing for newly developed antibodies
- Generating IHC images for antibody product sheets
